IAS 5940-105: Topic in International Studies: Global Perspectives on Gender

Course Description:

Feminism is a theory with and without borders. On the one hand, feminism is framed by culture, race, ethnicity, and nation. On the other hand, the belief in women’s empowerment, voice, agency, freedom from oppression, equality etc. connects the lives of women across the world. Transnational feminism recognizes the difference embedded in the lived experiences of women from around the world while at the same time building cross-border solidarity between various communities. After taking this course students should be able to:

1. Understand critiques of Western feminism and its sometimes inability to understand the lives of non-western women and women of color.
2. Analyze the lived experiences of non-western women and communities of color as they define feminism from their own situated position.
3. Be conversant with critical epistemologies and anti-oppressive research methodologies.
4. Explore the role that migration, capitalism, patriarchy, and state power play especially as these things interact, intersect, and impact women’s lives agency, agency, and sense of wellbeing.
5. Discuss intersectionality and be able to apply intersectionality in a way that this historically and contextually accurate.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Assignment #1 Reflection Essay

Please read Gyasi’s novel Homegoing and write a reflection essay.

The reflection essay should be 5-pages in length. Any essay that is not 5-pages in length will receive a 20-point deduction. The objective of each reflection essay is to demonstrate that you can provide a critical analysis of a given situation described in the reading. Essay Format:

1. provide a 1 paragraph summary of the text;
2. explore 2-3 conflicts for the main character(s) and discuss the sources of the conflict(s);
3. discuss your perspective of the conflict;
4. discuss 2 social justice issues that you feel the book highlights;
5. explore possible solutions for these social justice issues;
6. provide your overall assessment of the text; this is not an opportunity to discuss why you liked/disliked the book but for you to provide a critical analysis which puts the book into a larger social context.

The Reflection Essay is due in Canvas June 12, 2020 (this is the first day of class). Please bring a hard of digital copy of your essay to class to reference during our discussion.

Essay submission:

All typed assignment will be submitted via Canvas. Your work should be typed using Times New Roman Font with 12-point letter size. Double-space your work, and do not place any extra spaces between your paragraphs. Please use the tab key to indicate a new paragraph. Please do not add titles or a title page to your work. Any paper lacking the correct format will lose 10 points. Please use the following heading for all of your papers:

Your Name
The Date
Transnational Feminism
Assignment Name
Dr. Mirelsie Velázquez

All of this information should be single-spaced and located on the left-hand corner of your document. While still in single-space, hit the return key three times. After that, start your text. Your text should be double-spaced. Note: we will use a different format for the Action Plan.
Assignment #2: In-Class Exam

You will have a comprehensive written examination on the last day of class. The exam will cover all the readings and lecture materials and will have several short-answer questions and one essay questions.

Assignment #3: Transnational Social Justice Action Plan

As a final project, you will develop an action plan for responding to a specific scenario regarding women or from a list of topics or one approved by the professor. The action plan will be developed in response to a set of criteria that you will be asked to address.

Late Work:

It is my policy not to accept late work though I will be flexible should the situation warrant it. Please make every effort to submit your work on time.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F. The class is worth a total of 500 points:

A 500-450, B 449-400, C 399-350, D 349-300, and F <300

Policies and Notices

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc…in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at http://studentconduct.ou.edu/

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html.
Title IX Resources
