

EXTENDED CAMPUS

COLLEGE of PROFESSIONAL and CONTINUING STUDIES

HR 5623-221: Post Traumatic Stress Disorder

Course Description:

This course is designed to expose students to an in-depth examination of trauma and post-traumatic stress. Specifically, this course concentrates on what constitutes post-traumatic stress, its assessment, diagnosis, and therapeutic intervention. Social constructs that support or hinder the treatment of PTSD will be explored as well as historical and culturally related contexts related to the experience of trauma and PTSD specifically. The course will cover different sources of post-traumatic stress, as well as a review of evidence-based treatment modalities. PTSD prevalence and treatment with special populations will be discussed.

Course Objectives:

1. To learn the definition of acute and chronic stress, post-traumatic stress, and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).
2. To identify the symptomatology of post-traumatic stress and PTSD and be able to assess its occurrence in individuals.
3. To develop knowledge and skill in a number of treatment modalities used with individuals suffering from post-traumatic stress and PTSD.
4. To develop a knowledge base for working with special populations.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

First Paper: (25 points) Historical, Cultural and Personal Relationship with Trauma

This paper will integrate personal experiences with trauma and historical, cultural and social justice movements related to treatment. Please reference assigned texts and articles. You should also include other scholarly references to support your work. The paper should be 8-10 pages of text plus a reference page. APA format is required with 12-point Times New Roman font, double-spaced and 1-inch margins utilized.

The paper should have two distinct sections:

- The first section should be a broad description of your personal experience with trauma. This can be a personal, professional, familial or friendship based. It should be a reality-based situation, but you do not have to be so specific as to cause additional personal trauma. Be as specific as necessary – but be safe and appropriate. Discuss how the experience(s) have informed your understanding of the nature of trauma and the treatment of PTSD. This should be your experience and may be in first person narrative.
- The second section should not be in first person narrative and must rely on scholarly works. These may include articles and texts required or recommended for this class as well as other scholarly articles you may research personally. Discussion should include the historical context of trauma as well as treatment of PTSD trends. You may focus on a special population or social justice movement related to trauma and PTSD. Anchor your information within a cultural context and be specific.

Due: January 21st – hand in at beginning of class period

Group Work: (20 points)

You will work with a group of peers in the class to examine a specific trauma scenario. Together you will discuss treatment modalities that are appropriate to the scenario, barriers to treatment, current trends and outcome goals. More information will be given during class. Each group will make a short presentation during the class.

Due: Assigned during class

Final Paper: (45 points)

Due: February 9, 11:59pm

Participation (10 points)

As this is a graduate level course designed to prepare you for professional work, you are expected to have read the texts and have a working familiarity with the topic. Participation in discussions is expected. You are encouraged to have questions ready to add to any class discussion and be prepared to listen, inquire and reflect on information presented. All communication within the class should be professional and respectful. Aggressive language will not be tolerated. It goes without saying that you cannot participate if you do not attend the class. Points will be subtracted for absence, tardiness or failure to participate in discussions.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

A = 90 – 100 points

B = 80 – 89 points

C = 70 – 79 points

D = 60 – 69 points

F = 59 points and below

Assignment	Due Date	Points
Attendance/Participation	All Class Meetings	10
First Paper	January 21/1 st night of class	25
Group Work	Assigned during class	20
Final Paper	February 9 11:59 pm, 2 weeks after class conclusion	45

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

No late work will be accepted without pre-approved, written communication.

Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Cite your sources and paraphrase appropriately.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see <http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html>.

Title IX Resources

For any concerns regarding gender-based discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, stalking, or intimate partner violence, the University offers a variety of resources, including advocates on-call 24/7, counseling services, mutual no-contact orders, scheduling adjustments, and disciplinary sanctions against the perpetrator. Please contact the Sexual Misconduct Office at smo@ou.edu or (405) 325-2215 (8-5), or the Sexual Assault Response Team at (405) 615 -0013 (24/7) to report an incident.
