Course Objectives:

- To understand the presentation, symptomology, and experience of trauma.
- To understand the neurobiology of trauma and its affects on the body.
- To develop knowledge and skills in a number of treatment modalities used with individuals suffering from trauma and PTSD.
- To develop a knowledge base for working with special populations.

Instructional Strategies:

A variety of methods will be utilized in this course. Students will be assigned outside reading related to the topic for discussion in class. Students will be expected to come to class prepared to discuss information and ideas presented in the assigned readings and to integrate supplemental information offered by the instructor. This course will be taught primarily in a seminar-style format, with emphasis on discussion of the readings and their applicability to work as a counselor. Students will also be asked to apply the readings through discussion of case material and diagnostic situations. The primary mode of learning will be reading/reflection, discussion, presentations, written assignments, and group activities.

Note on laptops, phones, and PDAs: Due to the increasing amount of problems associated with laptop computers, phones, PDAs, etc. distracting from classroom instruction and the fact that research shows learning/retention is dramatically increased when students are strongly recommended to actively listen and write (by hand!) notes for class, I encourage students NOT to use of laptops, phones, PDAs, recording devices, etc. during instruction time. Have them turned off and stored. If you are on-call for work or have a family crisis/emergency you may have them set on vibrate, but please leave the classroom to take any calls. If you choose to use them I request you be respectful of your fellow students and they may only be used for activities related to class (e.g., taking notes, reviewing articles, course website, etc.).

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Paper 1: “The Body Keeps The Score”

Your paper should be typed, 8-10 pages, double-spaced, 12-point font, and 1-inch margins (APA format) and cite at least two other scholarly references.

Part I

Describe your experience with trauma—personal, professional, in your family, with colleagues/friends, or otherwise (you do not need to disclose in detail any personal trauma, be safe and appropriate) and how these experiences or knowledge you have may inform your understanding or about trauma (include any biases you may have because of these experiences as well).

Part II

Outline your top 5 themes from the book and how they will influence your work with trauma survivors. Include a critical analysis (e.g., pros, cons, strengths, weaknesses) to the material/themes.

Your paper is worth 30 points and is due to the Canvas drop-box by first night of class.
Paper 2: “The Body Remembers Casebook”

Your paper should be typed, 8-10 pages, double-spaced, 12-point font, and 1-inch margins (APA format) and cite at least two other scholarly references.

Part I
Describe your top-5 themes/principles from the book and how they will inform your work with trauma. What new insights have you learned about trauma? Strengths/Limitations of text? Also, describe your reactions to the emphasis on body-oriented approaches to trauma—what is your reaction to your own embodiment? Compare and contrast somatic-focused (or “bottoms-up”) approaches (e.g. Somatic Experiencing, Sensorimotor, EMDR, yoga/meditation, etc.) with conventional therapy approaches (e.g., CBT, Exposure therapy, psychodynamic, “top-down” approaches).

How are body-oriented approaches advantages over strictly “top-down” approaches to counseling?

Part II
Describe a case study (real or imagined) in which you apply the approaches and strategies learned from this class to a case of trauma. Be creative. Come up with a case of someone suffering from PTSD and propose a strategy for healing and treatment. What steps would you follow and what reactions and outcomes would you expect?

Your paper is worth 30 points and is due to the Canvas drop-box two weeks after the last class, May 3, 2020

Final Exam/Think Tanks
On the final day of class, you will be assigned a group and given a case study. You will work with your group to diagnose and assess the case, design an intervention or approach to working with the person, and present your ideas to the class for discussion. You should draw upon the course material as well as life experience and knowledge from other courses or settings.

The Think Tank activity is worth 30 points.

Participation
You will begin class with 10 participation points. Points will be subtracted for lateness, absences, or unprofessional behavior.

Grading:
This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F. Assignments are expected by the due date and reflect professionalism responsibility and accountability. Final grades will be assigned by percentage of total points:

Requirements for Assignments:

All assignments should be written using the 6th edition of the APA Publication Manual (APA, 2010) including a cover page and reference list (but no abstract is necessary) using Times New Roman 12-point font. Grading will be based upon the substantive content and the quality of the student's writing in all assignments, including discussion board postings (see Grading Rubric below). Substantive content includes following instructions for the content of the assignment. Quality of writing covers clarity of expression and organization, appropriate use of and citation of references within the text and in reference lists at the end of the paper using APA format. Academic writing style, use of inclusive language, and correct grammar, spelling, and punctuation will be included in the grade determination. Do not rely exclusively on the spell check feature of your word processor, which will not pick up errors such as homonyms, such as “principle” and “principal,” or homophones such as the correct use of “its” and “it’s.” Spelling, grammar, and punctuation will be taken into consideration in grading.

I have included a handout of APA essentials on Canvas, but it is not a substitute for reading and following the publication manual—particularly chapters 1 "Writing for Behavioral and Social Sciences" and 3 "Writing Clearly and Concisely." Discussion board assignments should be clearly and concisely written, but APA-style is not essential (do reference properly, however).

A note on plagiarism: Be aware that all your papers when put in the Assignment box are automatically submitted to turnitin.com, a plagiarism database that scans your paper and adds it to the database to be used for future searches. The scan gives a percentage for how much of a paper is found in other sources and gives links to those other sources as evidence. Please cite and paraphrase your material appropriately (see Writing Resources).

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc…in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc.…; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at http://studentconduct.ou.edu/
