Summary Reports:

Summary Reports count for 50% of your final grade. There will be 4 summary reports covering 15 cases that will be assigned throughout the course (see chart below). The cases due for summary report will be available on Canvas a month before classes begin. In the reports, students need to summarize the cases and demonstrate understanding of the material. Case study analysis must include the facts of the case, position of the parties to the dispute, issue before the Court, and reasoning and conclusion of the Court. Personal opinions about the subject are welcome, but do not substitute the case analysis. I advise you to post your summary reports as early as you can. Take into consideration that some cases are lengthy and time consuming. These reports can be posted at any time, as long as they are posted by the due date.

Additionally, each Summary Report must be posted on a single document on Canvas in the drop-box according to the schedule shown below. Each report consists of several cases. While there is no length limit, analysis of each case typically consists of 1 – 1 1/2 pages. Analyze each case independently. Do not combine the cases as each case deals with different aspect of International Law. All 15 cases are due. Also, write your name on the top of each Summary Report. There are two examples of summary reports on Canvas. Feel free to contact me at any time if you have any question concerning your report. If you experience problems posting your report on Canvas, e-mail it to me by the due date. Late summary reports will not be accepted. Feel free to email me your report for a feedback before the due date.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore, all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>
