Oklahoma’s Weather and Climate | $40
Amanda Kis, Meteorology

Wednesdays | August 29 – September 19
9 – 11 a.m.
CCE Forum Building | 1704 Asp Avenue, Norman Room A-1

Oklahoma’s diverse climate and often-hazardous weather are rooted in its unique physical geography. We will explore how its geography influences atmospheric dynamics to produce droughts, floods, heat waves and storms. Attendees may request specific events to supplement chosen events.

Establishing the National Weather Museum | $40
Jeff Kimpel and Donald Burgess, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration

Tuesdays | October 2 – 23 | 1:30 – 3 p.m.
CCE Forum Building | 1704 Asp Avenue, Norman Room A-6

The National Weather Museum and Science Center opened in the fall of 2016. The many exhibits focus on weather in general and contributions the Norman weather community made to weather science and forecast operations in particular. Lectures will cover the creation of the weather museum itself, Project Rough Rider’s impact on aviation, Doppler weather radar and its evolution over the last 50 years, characteristics of severe thunderstorms and severe weather safety. The last class will meet at the National Weather Museum and Science Center, 1200 West Rock Creek Road, Norman, OK 73089.

History of Ireland through Music | $40
Derek Donwerth, History

Tuesdays | September 4 – 25 | 2:30 – 4:30 p.m.
CCE Forum Building | 1704 Asp Avenue, Norman | Room A-3

This course examines the history of Ireland from the eighteenth through the twentieth centuries. To examine this period in Irish history we will engage a wide array of folk music, which embodies the substantial political, social and economic changes the country endured. Major topics in this course will include: the Irish Rebellion of 1798, the Great Famine, the Easter Rising of 1916 and the Troubles of the late twentieth century.
