Students are responsible for thoroughly reading assigned material before class that will aid in their ability to facilitate substantive and meaningful discussion during the class period. Readings are assigned from books and articles that will be posted on Canvas for student use.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

- Class Participation 25 pts
- Presentation (delivered during final day of class) 35 pts
- Final Paper: African Peacekeeping Operation or Organization 40 pts

Class Participation: Daily contribution & Attendance (active class participation) (25 Points)

In-class discussion is an important part of a graduate level education. Students must complete all readings before each session (See Canvas for assignments and note readings on Canvas as a pre-assignment). The instructor will assign each student a participation grade based on the student’s level of participation, attendance and preparation. This course is conducted in a lecture/seminar format, which is designed for faculty-student informed interaction as the primary means to inculcate the material. The class will consist of oral discussion(s) on assigned readings and presentation/class material that requires strategic level reflection on that session’s readings and key concepts.

Student Presentation (Assigned for final day of class) (35 Points):

Each student will have an opportunity during each class period from day 1 through day 5 to work toward the final presentation during day 6. Presentations will be no longer than 45 minutes inclusive of the presentation and answer and questions period. The students will use a panel-type presentation or individual presentations, depending on the number of students that are taking this course. The student will develop a slide presentation tailored to the assigned peacekeeping mission selected by the student(s) in consultation with the professor during the first-class period. The student will be prepared to lead a class discussion on the presentation. Definitive Student presentation criteria will be provided at first class.

Final Paper: Due Week no later than May 20, 2019 (40 Points):

Each student will individually write a research paper (APA style citations with reference page at end of paper) based on a topic related to an African peacekeeping mission or a closely related topic such as the African Union, the African Standby Force or a regional community as agreed upon by the student and the professor. The final paper will be no more than 15 pages, to include any charts and pictures that enhance the paper and reference page. This assignment will be finalized with each student during day 1. The papers will be submitted via email to: martinelli.oklahima.u@gmail.com. Each student should provide a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the return of the paper after annotations and grading.

Final Research Paper will be graded on the following:

Substance – Does your work address the assignment? Is your answer logical, supported and organized? Does your material and supporting evidence consist of facts, expert testimony and show evidence of research, reflection and thought? Is your work objective? Analysis should not be opinionated or politically slanted. Objectivity and balanced evaluation must be evident in your work.

Style - Is your writing at the graduate level in terms of syntax, grammar, organization, and usage?

Research - Did you incorporate sophisticated, graduate level research tools? Did you avoid un-refereed tools such as Wikipedia and other types of encyclopedic reference materials? Were your materials current or applicable if historical? Did you cite your work and give proper credit through the reference page?

Format – A final paper format will be provided during day 1. This will be the general format to be used for your final.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc…in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc…; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at http://studentconduct.ou.edu/
