Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Readings:

Students are asked to read three of the four books prior to the first assignment due date (November 10, 2018): Jentleson, Krutz & Peake, and Warrick (the Hamilton & Tama book can be read afterward). Reading these three books is something that will take several hours over several days to accomplish. Doing so will prepare you to engage class material and discussions, as well as to perform well on the various assignments. The Jentleson book is the core textbook, while the other books are “niche” books that explore specific aspects of American foreign policy in more detail. That means that it would be wise to begin with Jentleson, which is written somewhat densely like all textbooks. The upside to the denseness of the book is that students will get a good once-over of the entire subject area of American foreign policy from Jentleson. With this grounding, they will be ready to explore more ambitious topics. Next, move to Warrick’s interesting book on the rise of ISIS. Warrick is a journalist, so the book will feel less scholarly and less dense than Jentleson. Finally, read my book with Jeff Peake on the rise in the use of executive agreements vis-à-vis treaties, which explores in-depth with modern social science methods the topic of presidential-congressional relations on international agreements. All of the books, as students will see when they read them in advance of the class, will provide much food for thought and discussion.

First Assignment (November 10, 2018)

After familiarizing themselves with the books, students should write 4 double-spaced pages (1 inch margins, 12 pt font) for each of the following questions (3 questions X 4 pages each=total of 12 pages):

1. What is American foreign policy and what are the primary schools of thought on how it should be pursued? How does politics factor into it? In what ways has American foreign policy changed over time? Finally, name and discuss 2 notable challenges to American foreign policy going forward.
2. Why are executive agreements (EAs) used instead of treaties (2 main explanations)? What effect does the rise of EAs have on presidential-congressional relations? Include in your coverage of the EA/treaty topic the main hurdles to Senate consent faced on the Panama Canal treaties and Nuclear test ban treaty.
3. How does Warrick explain that ISIS emerged? What can the US do to denigrate and defeat ISIS?

Class Participation:

Students must read the assigned material (other than the Hamilton and Tama book) before writing in the discussion posts via Canvas. Contribution to the discussions is imperative for a good grade. Quality will be reviewed over quantity.

Group Cases/Exercise:

After the much of the class material has been covered and discussions have been brewing, and before the exam, students will apply what they have learned in groups by applying theories and concepts to actual cases. These cases will be provided on-line by the instructor for students to read the cases before working on them in their groups. Everything will be done on-line and students should find these to be very enjoyable. The group write-ups will be due December 5th.

Final Exam:

Students will give a take-home, written exam. The examination will test students’ descriptive knowledge about class topics and require a good deal of analysis as well. The three sections of the exam, which will be described in more detail in class, are: (1) short answers, (2) arguments, and (3) essays.

Final Paper:

The paper, due via email December 31, 2018, should be a review of Hamilton and Tama’s book. The student should consider the authors’ argument(s) and discuss whether he/she agrees or disagrees with the authors’ contention(s). Specifically, the paper should (1) provide a brief overview of the book; (2) outline the strengths and weaknesses of the argument(s) offered in the book; and (3) offer the student’s own assessment as to the value of the argument(s) and whether s/he would recommend the reading to others and why. The paper should be 7-9 pages in length (double-spaced with 1 inch margins and 12 pt font).

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F. The following grade scale will apply: 90%-100% = A; 80%-89% = B; 70%-79% = C; 60%-69% = D; below 60% = F.

Assignment	Due Date	Percent of Grade
First Assignment	November 10, 2018	20%
Class Participation	Via Canvas discussions	10%
Group Cases/Exercise	December 5, 2018	15%
Final Exam	December 17, 2018	35%
Final Paper	December 31, 2018	20%

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>
