IAS 5213-101: Politics of the European Union

Course Description:

The European Union is an international leader in the fields of humanitarian and development aid, trade, and finance. Prior to its recent series of problems, including the financial crisis, the refugee crisis, the British vote to leave the Union and the retreat from democracy in Hungary and many observers believed the EU was emerging as a leading global actor and model for adaptation to globalization. In the wake of the refugee crisis, British exit and rising nationalism on the heels of the financial crisis, a chorus of critics argue that the EU confronts the prospect of disintegration. This course is designed to equip students with the ability to evaluate this claim by examining the historical process of European integration.

- How might we understand deepening integration between an enlarging group of sovereign states?
- What forces or mechanisms account for progress in European integration?
- How is the European Union structured and how does it decide and act?
- How have the Europeans constructed a single market and introduced a single currency, and what are the most critical consequences of these developments?
- What are the causes of the eurozone crisis, and what does it tell us about the weaknesses and strengths of the European integration project?
- Is the eurozone even viable without fiscal and even political union?
- What about the refugee crisis -- with nationalism and anti-EU populism on the rise, does European integration threaten to create deep political turmoil in its member states?
- Does the refugee crisis endanger integration itself?
- What about Brexit – is the British decision to leave the first domino to fall, or will it serve as an object lesson in the benefits of integration and the costs of exit?

Assignments, Grading, and Due Dates:

There are four graded components to the course:

1. An analytical essay -- topic provided on syllabus below -- of approximately 1250 words (5 double-spaced pages) due to the Canvas dropbox 1 hour before the first class meeting on September 28th (25% of course grade);

2. Regular, substantive, high-quality contributions during class (30% of grade; 5% each day);

3. A final debate (October 6 & 7) on EU values and how the EU should respond to rising nationalism and the straying of Poland and Hungary from the values of the EU (15% of course grade)

4. A second essay of 1500 words (6 double-spaced pages) due 1 week after last class meeting, October 14 at midnight CST (30% of course grade)

The instructor will be available for consultation via e-mail (preferred) in advance of the course, so that students wishing to obtain guidance on the first essay assignment may do so. All students should check their OU e-mail regularly after March 15 for communications from the instructor about the course.

Schedule of Assignments and Discussions

I. The Origins and Forces of European Integration
i. Selections from Churchill; Schuman; preambles to the Treaties of Paris and Rome; Monnet; de Gaulle; preamble to the Single European Act; Thatcher; and Delors in Nelsen and Stubb, eds (pp. 11-61).

iv. First essay assignment (1250 words) due to the Canvas dropbox 1 hour before the first class meeting on September 28th: Over the years, many observers of European Community/European Union countries (including journalists, politicians, and scholars) argued that substantial advances in integration were unlikely to take place, could occur only under highly specialized conditions, and would not endure. The historical development of the EC/EU seems to contradict this claim. How would you explain European integration? What factors or mechanisms have made progress possible? What role do EU institutions play in sustaining and advancing the integration process?

II. From Single Market to Economic and Monetary Union

iii. Paulette Kurzer, Markets and Moral Regulation, all.

III. The Eurozone Crisis and the EU Response

IV. The EU as a Community of Values and the Future of the EU

x. Matthew Taylor, “‘White Europe’: 60,000 nationalists march on Poland’s independence day,” The Guardian, November 12, 2017; https://www.theguardian.com/world/2017/nov/12/white-europe-60000-nationalists-march-on-polands-independence-day

5. Second essay assignment (1500 words) due 1 week after last class meeting, October 14 at midnight CST: Should the European Council pursue Article 7 action against Poland and Hungary? Is such a step crucial to upholding values central to the identity of the EU, or would this path be too divisive and potentially destructive for the European integration project?

Grading:
This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc…in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc…; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at http://studentconduct.ou.edu/

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues
