 - e. One package (with at least 20 napkins) of paper napkins with artistic printing on them (Tuesday Morning on Main Street has a large inexpensive collection)

Note: The Follett/AP Bookstore is the Advanced Programs contractual textbook provider. Should text changes become necessary after publication of the course syllabus, Advanced Programs will facilitate text returns/refunds only for texts purchased through the Follett/AP Bookstore.

Course Objectives:

Students will:

- explore both the theory and practice of mental health issues as they relate to women and girls;
- examine innovative approaches to helping women and girls in both clinical and non-clinical settings;
- describe psychosocial developmental dynamics as they impact women and girl's psychological health;
- reflect, through written personal narratives, their own developmental concerns;
- gain a greater understanding of the multiple interactions of culture, family, social and political institutions upon women's mental health;
- examine relational cultural theory as it is employed to examine women and depression; and
- understand the use of the "I" and the "Over-eye" and its relationship to women's sense of self.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

The instructional methodology for this course will consist of: discussions, team presentations, individual presentations, lectures, guest speakers, video/film presentations and writing.

Attendance - 10 points

Students are expected to attend all class meetings and all team project meetings. Class attendance is mandatory; thus, failure to attend class meetings and group meetings will result in the lowering of students' grades by two points for each missed class.

Reflective Journal- 20 points

Students must bring the journal (composition notebook) to class for each class period. Students will complete a reflective journal in the composition journal. Composition journals should be a “Composition Notebook” which is 9 ¾ X 7 ½ and bound with tape (no spiral bounds). These composition notebooks are inexpensive approximately $1.00 at most discount stores. They are typically black and white covered, although any color is fine as long as it meets the size and binding requirements. Journal entries will consist of:

- 1) reflective writing by the student,
- 2) collages constructed from magazines or other print materials, for example, calendars, catalogs, etc.
- 3) quotes from the readings assigned for the course or any other source which students find informative, and
- 4) poetry - attribute the source, that is, the author(s).

Students will bring a copy of a quote or a poem they found inspirational or thought provoking to each class meeting. For the second weekend, students should bring enough copies of each quote for each student in the class. We will have a final count of the number of students enrolled by the first class meeting.

Individual / Dyad Presentations - Due: First Saturday - 20 points

Depending on the class size students will either individually or in dyads, provide a presentation from an assigned article in the Chrysler or Jordan texts. Each student will lead the class in a discussion of the material in the article. Presentations should not exceed 10 minutes.

Group Presentation - Due: Second Saturday - 30 points

Students will be divided into groups which will then be assigned one of the texts (Miller, Jack, Caplan books). Each group will be responsible for providing a presentation which covers the material dealt with in the text. Presentations will be limited to one hour. Additional time will be provided for questions and answers. Evaluations will be based on the creativity and thoroughness of the coverage. Each group should provide a one-page outline of each article in the text. This will be provided for all class members and the instructor on the day of the presentation. Time limit is 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Final Exam - Last class meeting - 20 points

The final exam will deal with the material covered in class. That is, all texts, readings, lectures, discussions, and video/film presentations.

Class Policies:

Late Work:

Students who fail to present on their scheduled dates will forfeit the available points. This policy includes in-class assignments and the team presentation. Late journals will only be accepted with medical documentation of illness. In the event of a scheduled, approved university event—journals should be submitted early. Late finals are not accepted.

Recording Devices / Cell Phones / Computers / Pagers:

This course is both didactic and experiential; thus, students should feel fully present during class. Class sessions may not be tape recorded. Phones and pagers should be placed in silent mode or turned off. Students who ignore this policy and engage in cell phone use during class will be asked to drop the course---there is no exception to this policy. Computers should not be used during class. Students who require an exception to this policy should discuss it with the instructor.

Religious Holidays Statement:

It is the policy of the University to excuse student absences resulting from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F. A=100-90, B=89-80, C=79-70, D=69-60, F=59 and below.

Assignment	Due Date	Points Value
Attendance	All class sessions	10 Points
Reflective Journal	Each class session	20 Points
Individual/Dyad Presentation	First Saturday	20 Points
Group Presentation	Second Saturday	30 Points
Final Exam	Last class session	20 points

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see <http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html>.

Title IX Resources

For any concerns regarding gender-based discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, stalking, or intimate partner violence, the University offers a variety of resources, including advocates on-call 24/7, counseling services, mutual no-contact orders, scheduling adjustments, and disciplinary sanctions against the perpetrator. Please contact the Sexual Misconduct Office at smo@ou.edu or (405) 325-2215 (8-5), or the Sexual Assault Response Team at (405) 615 -0013 (24/7) to report an incident. To learn more about Title IX, please visit the Institutional Equity Office's website at <http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo.html>

Course Policies

Advanced Programs policy is to order books in paperback if available. Courses, dates, and professors are subject to change. Please check with your OU Site Director. Students should retain a copy of any assignments that are mailed to the professor for the course. Advanced Programs does not provide duplicating services or office supplies.

Any and all course materials, syllabus, lessons, lectures, etc. are the property of professor teaching the course and the Board of Regents of the University of Oklahoma and are protected under applicable copyright.
