Online Orientation:

The College of Arts and Sciences offers an online orientation for students who are enrolled in online or blended courses. The purpose of the orientation is to ensure that students are well prepared both technically and practically to take online courses. The orientation can be found on their website at: <http://www.ou.edu/content/cas/online/student-online-orientation.html>

The College of Arts and Sciences Online and Academic Technology Services office is here to assist you with any questions, problems, or concerns you may have. For assistance visit their website at <http://www.ou.edu/content/cas/online/student-information.html> or contact them by telephone at: (405) 325-5854 or email: casonline@ou.edu

Course Objectives:

The objectives of this course are to:

- understand the fundamental principles of various theoretical orientations that form the foundation of human relations practice;
- learn specific practices and techniques associated with theoretical orientations, in order to enhance intervention strategies, whether in organizations, a counseling environment or other settings;
- develop the student's own preferred theoretical orientation and to increase understanding on how one's theoretical orientation may affect behavior, perspectives, biases, and value systems when interacting with other people or in a group situation;
- develop further self-awareness about identity related to race, ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation, and recognize their salience in human relations practice; and
- develop critical thinking in relation to theories, especially regarding the role of theory in guiding ethical behavior in the practice of human relations.

Assignments, Grading, and Due Dates:

Theory Paper:

In the first part of this course, you will study many different counseling theories. You will also learn that many therapists are eclectic, using parts of several theories as they work with clients. However, eclecticism can be dangerous if it is just an excuse for being a jack of all trades and master of none. Build your own model of counseling, explaining your choices. Select at least three theories to include in your model. The model should include a basic philosophy, discussion of how you view the therapeutic relationship, how you would define therapeutic goals, and which techniques you would use and why. Discuss the limitations of your model in multicultural counseling. All theories you choose should contribute to some part of the discussion but need not be part of each section. For instance, you might use one theory as the basis of defining therapeutic relationships and two other theories for choosing goals and techniques. Specifics and a grading rubric will be provided on the Canvas site.

Leadership Paper:

In this paper, you will compare an alternate model than the one described in the text. You will read about the model as part of one of the lessons. You will think about your current workplace or a former workplace which fit the model, describe the workplace and why it fits the model. Further details will be given on the Canvas site.

Final Paper:

Write a paper on one of the following topics. Specifics and a grading rubric will be provided on the Canvas site.

1. Choose a biography or autobiography of a person doing work in an HR-related field. It can be in your career field or any other appropriate field. Write a research paper analyzing their work using the various organizational concepts we are studying such as leadership, teamwork, organizational change, or organizational behavior.
2. Read a book about one of the areas that we have studied that gives different perspective on the subject. For instance, you could read a book about women's styles of leadership, or counseling from a different perspective than the ones we have studied. Write a paper that briefly summarizes the theory, compare/contrast with some of the theories we have studied, and tell how it can be applied.

3. Read a book that applies a certain counseling theory to a particular disorder or population. Write a paper about the utility of the therapy with this disorder.
4. Read a biography or autobiography about a theorist we have studied. Discuss how life experiences shaped their theory.
5. Read a primary source by one of the theorist we have studied. Explain the theory in more depth and described how it advanced theory or created an alternative view as a reaction to another paradigm.
6. Choose a challenge in the workplace such as work-life balance, globalization, or stress management. Explain the issues and challenges. Identify approaches that seem to be effective and ineffective in dealing with this issue. Highlight at least one company you think is doing a good job helping their employees manage this issue.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

Assignment	Percent of Grade
Theory paper	20
Final paper	20
Org paper	10
Discussions	50

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

Policy for Late Work:

Please contact the professor regarding his/her policy for late work

Attendance Policy:

In addition to interaction via Canvas and email contact, students are required to contact the instructor via email or telephone before the beginning of the course term for an initial briefing. Although physical class meetings are not part of this course, participation in all interactive, learning activities is required.

Student assignments and student/instructor communications will be conducted via Canvas, although students may contact the instructor via telephone, postal mail, email, or fax as needed

Incomplete Grade Policy:

A grade of “I” is not automatically assigned, but rather must be requested by the student by submitting to the instructor a “Petition for and Work to Remove an Incomplete Grade” form. An “I” can never be used in lieu of an “F” nor can an “I” be assigned because of excessive failure to participate in class activities.

Technical Support Information:

If you experience technical problems, contact Information Technology by visiting their website at: <http://webapps.ou.edu/it/> or contacting them by telephone at: (405) 325-HELP (4357).

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Note: Attendance/absences do not apply to online courses. However, participation in all course activities is extremely important to student success in online courses.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore, all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see <http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html>.
