IAS 5213-490: Politics of the European Union

Course Description:

The European Union is an international leader in the fields of humanitarian and development aid, trade, and finance. Prior to its recent series of problems, including the financial crisis, the refugee crisis, the British vote to leave the Union and the retreat from democracy in Hungary and many observers believed the EU was emerging as a leading global actor and model for adaptation to globalization. In the wake of the refugee crisis, British exit and rising nationalism on the heels of the financial crisis, a chorus of critics argue that the EU confronts the prospect of disintegration. This course is designed to equip students with the ability to evaluate this claim by examining the historical process of European integration.

- How might we understand deepening integration between an enlarging group of sovereign states?
- What forces or mechanisms account for progress in European integration?
- How is the European Union structured and how does it decide and act?
- How have the Europeans constructed a single market and introduced a single currency, and what are the most critical consequences of these developments?
- What are the causes of the eurozone crisis, and what does it tell us about the weaknesses and strengths of the European integration project?
- Is the eurozone even viable without fiscal and even political union?
- With nationalism and anti-EU populism on the rise, does European integration threaten to create deep political turmoil in its member states?
- What about Brexit – why did this happen and what are the implications? Is the British decision to leave the first domino to fall, or will it serve as an object lesson in the benefits of integration and the costs of exit?

Assignments, Grading, and Due Dates:

There are four graded components to the course:

1. an analytical essay -- topic provided on syllabus below -- of approximately 1250 words (5 double-spaced pages) due to the Canvas dropbox by noon Central Standard Time on Monday, September 16 (20% of course grade);
2. regular, substantive, high-quality contributions to three online discussions, each taking place during a 72-hour discussion window (35% of grade; 10% for each discussion + 5% for highest discussion score);
3. a final debate (September 28-October 1) on EU values and how the EU should respond to rising nationalism and the straying of Poland and Hungary from the values of the EU (15% of course grade)
4. a second essay of 1500 words (6 double-spaced pages) due by noon Central Time on Saturday, September 28 (30%).

The instructor will be available for consultation via e-mail (preferred) in advance of the course, so that students wishing to obtain guidance on the first essay assignment may do so. All students should check their OU e-mail regularly after the August 18th add/drop deadline for communications from the instructor about the course.

Second essay assignment (1500 words) due to the Canvas dropbox no later than noon Central Standard Time, Saturday, September 28: Should the European Council pursue Article 7 action against Poland and Hungary? Is such a step crucial to upholding values central to the identity of the EU, or would this path be too divisive and potentially destructive for the European integration project?

Final online debate, noon, CST, Saturday, September to noon, CST, Tuesday, October 1: Is the European integration project doomed by rising nationalism and the backlash against elitism and globalization suggested by the British vote to leave the EU and by rejection of EU values of democracy, rule of law and protection of minority and human rights by governments in Poland and Hungary?

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

Policy for Late Work:

Please contact the professor regarding his/her policy for late work

Attendance Policy:

Although physical class meetings are not part of this course, participation in all interactive, learning activities is required.

Student assignments and student/instructor communications will be conducted via Canvas, although students may contact the instructor via telephone, postal mail, email, or fax as needed

Incomplete Grade Policy:

A grade of "I" is not automatically assigned, but rather must be requested by the student by submitting to the instructor a "Petition for and Work to Remove an Incompleted Grade" form. An "I" can never be used in lieu of an "F" nor can an "I" be assigned because of excessive failure to participate in class activities.

If you experience technical problems, contact Information Technology by visiting their website at: <http://webapps.ou.edu/it/> or contacting them by telephone at: (405) 325-HELP (4357).

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Note: Attendance/absences do not apply to online courses. However, participation in all course activities is extremely important to student success in online courses.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see <http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html>.
