HR 5323-221: Organizational Behavior in Human Relations

Course Description:

This course is designed to understand the relationship between various aspects of organizational environments and the behavior of organization members and the impact of human relations skills. The assigned readings have been selected to familiarize students with key concepts relating to individuals, groups and organizations. Class activities will primarily focus on how the concepts can be applied in a variety of “real world” settings. The relevant application of the theories and concepts to current organizational work environments and human relations will be stressed. Contemporary issues and challenges confronting managers in modern organizations as a result of a complex, changing work force will also be discussed. Through completion of the course, students will better understand the forces that serve to influence their behavior as an organization member, and in turn, how their own behavior serves to influence those around them.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

1. Complete assigned readings in the Robbins book as listed in course outline. All readings should be completed prior to the beginning of the first class scheduled for July 10, 2018. Additional readings may be assigned during class.
2. Submit a brief paper (4-5 pages, typed, double spaced) describing a real or hypothetical organizational behavior problem. This can be relating to leadership, organizational restructuring, motivation, ethics, etc., or any problem that an organization must address or manage. You should explore the problem from an objective viewpoint. Then, from an organizational behavior/human relations perspective, you should design and suggest a solution to the problem. You should evaluate the effectiveness of the solution in terms of managerial and employee perceptions. You should also discuss the organizational behavior/human relations concepts and principles that you believe are most applicable to your approach to successfully solve the problem. Cite appropriate references as needed to support your ideas (a minimum of 3 references/citations). The purpose of this paper is to increase understanding of organizational behavior and human relations management concepts and principles and how they are applied. Be clear and concise in your writing and carefully edit your paper. This assignment is due July 2, one week prior to the first day of class, and submitted by e-mail to rlittle@ou.edu.
3. Participate in program design simulations or case studies for in-class exercises/activities.
4. Class discussions will be based on the pre-assigned readings, lectures and in-class
5. Two exams will be given; the first on July 12, 2018 and the final exam will be given on July 15, 2018. All exams will be based on readings, lectures, class discussions and in-class activities.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F. (A = 90-100; B = 80- 89; C = 70- 80; D = 60- 70; F = 69-Below) Grading will be based on:

Assignment	Due Date	Percent of Grade
Pre-Course Paper	July 2, 2018	25%
Mid-Week Exam	July 12, 2018	10%
Group Project	July 15, 2018 (During Class)	25%
Final Exam	July 15, 2018 (During Class)	40%

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

Special Notices:

Students should retain a copy of any assignments that are mailed to the instructor for the course.

Due to Contractual, TA, VA requirements, all grades associated with this course must be submitted no later than thirty days from the last day of class. The professor has the option to require completion prior to the thirty-day deadline if he/she desires.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore, all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see <http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html>.

Title IX Resources

For any concerns regarding gender-based discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, stalking, or intimate partner violence, the University offers a variety of resources, including advocates on-call 24/7, counseling services, mutual no-contact orders, scheduling adjustments, and disciplinary sanctions against the perpetrator. Please contact the Sexual Misconduct Office at smo@ou.edu or (405) 325-2215 (8-5), or the Sexual Assault Response Team at (405) 615 -0013 (24/7) to report an incident.
